The sword opens with Aunt Polly crossing the fence in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with his work.

Tom crosses fence at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly discovers and scolds Tom for his mischief. Tom's half brother, Huckleberry Finn, tries to help Tom but Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the fence to play the streets of St. Petersburg. Tom and the new arrival, Huckleberry Finn, choose the adventures all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and decides to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of excuse. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

Tom crosses fence at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly discovers that Tom's hands are covered with jam. She asks him how he got the jam on his hands, and he tells her that he was out on the fence. She is still angry from the last time, but she is not so angry now. She tells Tom that she will not punish him for this time, but she will punish him if he does it again.

Tom goes out of the fence to play the streets of St. Petersburg. Tom and the new arrival, Huckleberry Finn, play a game of hide-and-seek in the graveyard. Tom chooses the graveyard all the way home.
